

CURRICULUM MAP

	HSPM PhD	PH Core		HSPM Topics & Research Methods				HSPM Concentration (9 hours)	HSPM 899 Dissertation
		PUBH 700	EPID 701	HSPM 845	HSPM 846	HSPM 717	HSPM 719
	Goals and Learning Outcomes
G1	Upon completion of the degree program, students will: Demonstrate knowledge of the major approaches to health services research (survey research, qualitative research, experimental design research) and the appropriateness of various applications for problem solving; Demonstrate the ability to statistically and cognitively analyze and interpret data, quantitative and qualitative; Be knowledgeable about major issues in health services delivery and health services research through critical review of current literature; Demonstrate the ability to conduct original research by completing a doctoral dissertation. Demonstrate the ability to teach courses at the graduate and/or undergraduate level.
G1.LO1	Understand public health context of health policy, health services research and management	P	P	R	R		R
G1.LO2	Demonstrate skills in the application of statistical techniques to health services research data through creation and defense of the doctoral dissertation.		R	R		P	P	R
G1.LO3	Demonstrate professional written communication and oral presentation skills through the doctoral dissertation proposal, submission of the dissertation, and the dissertation defense.			R	R		R	R	P

P = Courses in which competencies are primarily gained; R = Courses in which competencies are reinforced