

Suicidality Case Study Rubric:

	Unsatisfactory	Satisfactory	Excellent
Risk Factors	An Unsatisfactory response is one that does not identify risk factors for suicide.	A Satisfactory response is one that identifies risk factors for suicide.	An Excellent response is one that identifies risk factors for suicide, and identifies further information needed related to risk factors.
Protective Factors	An Unsatisfactory response is one that does not identify protective factors against suicide.	A Satisfactory response is one that identifies protective factors against suicide.	An Excellent response is one that identifies protective factors against suicide, and identifies further information needed related to protective factors.
Assessment Techniques	An Unsatisfactory response is one that does not identify techniques to assess suicidality.	A Satisfactory response is one that identifies techniques to assess suicidality.	An Excellent response is one that identifies techniques to assess suicidality, and applies these techniques to the case study.